

In January 2005, UVic welcomed its first cohort of medical students, thanks to the Island Medical Program (IMP), part of a unique provincial program designed to increase the number of new physicians in BC and to provide medical students with a

Disco

W' ac .
University of Victoria Research

Supporting education in our community