

From: Copyright Office
To: Copyright Office
Subject: Recent Access Copyright v York University decision and its impact on the University of Victoria
Date: September 18, 2017 10:34:06 AM
Attachments:
Importance: High

---

Subject: Message for Forwarding Please: Recent Access Copyright v York University decision and its impact on the University of Victoria
Importance:High

Good Morning Everyone,

Jonathan Bengtson, the University Librarian, has asked me to pass the following message on.

Please can you distribute as broadly as possible to faculty members, staff and course instructors within your area.

Thank you
Inba Kehoe, Copyright Officer

Recent Access Copyright v York University decision and its impact on the University of Victoria

On July 12, 2017 the Federal Court issued its judgment in the first phase of the Access Copyright v York University litigation. The Court concluded that copying done by York employees materials through the Library Reserves systems or the University Bookstore's Coursepack service. Faculty and instructors should seek guidance from the Copyright Office (copyright@uvic.ca)