ELIGIBILIT:Y

- x A variable benefit is available if youhave terminated employment and attained the minimum age of 55. It is similar to a life income fund (LIF) so spousal consent is required in order to select this option with any locked-in funds².
- x A variable benefit is also available if you are the urviving spouse of a member who had not commenced a benefit as at the date of death, or who died while in receipt of a variable benefit pension. There is no minimum age for a surviving spouse.
- x The remainder of the brochure is written from the perspective of a member selecting a variable benefit. In the case of a surviving spouse, the names of some forms may differ; however other information, such as the calculation of minima and maxima, would apply equally.

¹spousal consenentails a spouse (legal, common law or same sex) completing and significant form outside the member's presence.
