

PHYSICS AND ASTRONOMY SEMINAR

Dr. Frank Berghaus

CERN Fellow, Information Technology Department

“Data Preservation in High Energy Physics”

Abstract

Data from high energy physics (HEP) experiments are collected with significant financial and human effort and are mostly unique. These data remain useful for decades after the conclusion of the individual experiments: for example LEP data was used 10()9 C52()9 Cs