COURSE OUTLINE GEOGRAPHY OF CANADA

LECTURES:

Mondays and Thursdays, 10:00-11:20, in room COR A225

Office Hours: Thursdays, 14:00-16:00 Office Location: DTB B210 Contact: camo@uvic.ca

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course introduces students to the power and promise of geographic inquiry grounded in studies of Canada. We begin with setting our philosophical and pedagogical focus and providing a broad overview of the field of geography. We then dive right into considering the country's physical setting; the dynamic processes (e.g. geomorphological, biogeographical, climatic) that have shaped (and continue to reshape) its varied landscapes, and implications for those who live, work, and play there. We consider Canadian climate and weather and the present concern of climate change. Transitioning from a physical to human geography focus, we consider how the country evolved to its present political-territorial form and seek to explain settlement and development patterns. We then turn to explore more challenging philosophical questions around what it means to be Cans urvto -0.0012 Tc [(and)roor w
