

'University of Koeye' Field School: May 1st – 7th, 2024
Indigenous Knowledge, Science, and Resource Management
University of Victoria Department of Geography & QQS Projects Society

Successful applicants from other institutions must register at UVic as a visiting student, and work with their program advisors at home institutions towards transferring credit.

COURSE OVERVIEW:

Geography 453 – Field Studies in Coastal and Marine Resources

Prerequisite: GEOG 353 equivalent

Instructor: Chris Darimon (UVic) and Jessie Hasty (QQS Projects Society)

May 1st – 7th, 2024

Koeye Field School 2024
University of Victoria Department of Geography & QQS Projects Society

Courses – Continued

Overview: This land-based educational experience weaves together Indigenous Knowledge and science in the context of natural resource use and management. Designed to be highly experiential, the course gives students time and opportunities in the Koeye watershed to interact with its natural features as well as with Knowledge Holders, scientists, and natural resource managers.

KEY THEMES: Natural resource use and management, Indigenous Knowledge, governance, science, wildlife, plants

Fees , ,