

presented as part of the lectures. There will be 4–5 activities spread out during the term. They will be time limited—that is, you can't wait until the end of the course to complete all the polls, post things etc. If you fail to complete an activity in the allotted time (typically 1 week), you won't get credit for that activity. The participation activities will usually be open for at least a week, so please don't ask me for an extension if you miss one. Information about each activity (including due dates) will be announced in class and posted on the website.

Students are expected to familiarize themselves with the UVic Policy on Academic Integrity.
