

A second response to the increase in enrollments has been to try to fill student demand using sessional lecturers. We note that Psychology has the highest use of sessional instructors in the Faculty and has a chronic reliance on EMF. This is an unnecessarily precarious and stressful means of managing what appears to be an ongoing situation. Teac